6,000 Years New Dates for the Flood, Abraham and the Exodus

(Comprehensive Version 4-28-2020) Source HERE
by Floyd R. Cox

Here is a riddle wrapped within an enigma. How can we feel certain about when Creation took place (such as 4004 BC) if we don't even know for sure when the Exodus from Egypt took place? The Exodus dates proposed have been about 251, 427, 479 & 590 years before the temple.

From Adam to the Founding of the Temple The Original 427-Year Pattern?

What are the odds that a 427-year pattern can be created from Adam to the temple by merely cutting 52 years from one era (after the Exodus) and by pasting into another era (after Adam)? Seems very unlikely, but, nevertheless, it can be done without ever being discovered!

Someone must have moved 52 years as in TABLE 1. If so, it would change the date of the Exodus from 1446 BC to 1393 BC, and would change the date when Abraham fought the kings of the North, at age 85, from to 1862 to 1810 BC.

Our first question should be, what would happen if Egypt suffered from 10 plagues at the Exodus, or lost three million farmers and builders, or lost the firstborn of every family, or lost massive amount of gold and jewels being "spoiled", or lost an entire army in the Red Sea? The answer is simple. We would expect to find a period of economic collapse and ruin in Egypt. Did this happen in 251, 427, 479 or 590 years before the temple?

In 1393 BC, 427 years before the temple was founded in 966 BC, there is evidence that Egypt began a significant reversal and decline. Pharaoh Amenhotep III (Amenophis III) remained the richest man on earth for 38 years, and (by coincidence?) the Israelites were in the wilderness 38 years (Deut. 2:14). He very likely confiscated massive amounts of treasure by robbing coffins.

The Pharaoh withdrew from occupying the coast of Canaan up to the Euphrates. This enabled the Hittites (in today's Turkey) to strengthen Assyria northeast of the Euphrates.

Forty years later, the kings of Canaan wrote the Amarna Letters asking Pharaoh's son, Akhenaten, to return to Canaan and help them fight the Apiru (Habiru, Hebrews discussed HERE) who were invading them.

The pleas ended after Akhenaten's eighth year, and Joshua's conquest of Canaan lasted seven years. After Akhenaten's death, his widowed queen offered her throne to a son of a king of the Hittites if he would send his son to Egypt and marry her. She succeeded in having a son, "King Tut" (Tutankhamun), to succeed her in 1335 BC, and his massive treasury likely came from various tombs built previously

TABLE 1. The Original 427-year Pattern from Adam to the Temple

Adam	Flood	Abraham Age 75	Exodus	Temple Founded
427 yrs.	427 yrs.	427 yrs.	$427 \times 4 = 1656 + 52$	427 yrs.
			= 1708	$479 - 52 = 427$ yrs.

A 427-Year Pattern

TABLE 1 above shows that, 427 years after Noah's flood, Abraham was age 75 (when his father died, that is, when he first entered Canaan).

It shows also that his year 75 was 427 years before the Exodus. This would mean there were 854 years (427 x 2) from the flood to the Exodus. Moreover, it is implied there was another 427 years from the Exodus to Solomon's temple.

The 427-year pattern between Adam and the flood is not very obvious and, likewise, the pattern between the Exodus and Solomon's temple is hidden. There was a need to remove 52 years before the temple and place them before the flood. This was hidden.

There are 427 years after the flood to Abraham's age 75 and another 427 years to the Exodus. This becomes obvious after first noting the 430 years (in Exodus 12:41) to the exodus began when Abraham left Ur of Babylon, before his father died (Acts 7:1-2).

Founding of the Temple 251, 427, 479 or 590 years after the Exodus?

A common belief is that the Exodus was in 1446 BC (480 years before the temple in 966)

Scholars debate whether this period from Exodus to David & Solomon should be 251 or 479 or 590 years, and we even find examples of each of these three beliefs in the first century as in TABLE 3 below. In Acts 13:20, the Judges lasted 450 years. But the temple was allegedly 479 years after the Exodus (I Kings 6:1), only seven generations after Solomon's ancestor at the Exodus.

The main problem is found in the period of the Judges. The Israelites were oppressed consecutively by six neighboring armies for 111 years altogether, and were rescued by judges that ruled 339 years. So there are three texts that render the period of the Judges three different ways (TABLE 3). A second option for the years from the Exodus to the temple is 479 years. This does not replace or interfere with the above 427 years from the flood to Abraham and the 427 years from Abraham to the Exodus.

721
623
588

Support for this 427-year view comes from having 61 sabbaticals within every 427 years. Adam's death was in his 931st year (in the 19th jubilee), Noah's son, Shem, was age 98 (two jubilees) at the flood. Adam, the flood, Abram's calling, the exodus and the temple would all be after a 427-year period. Moreover, after 966 BC, there would be 427 years down to 539 BC (when Cyrus conquered Babylon). The Sabbaticals would merge with 931 BC (when Israel split from Judah) also in 868 and 721 (when Assyria captured Israel), 623 (when Josiah began his reform), 588 (when Jerusalem fell in 588/87 and 574 (Ezekiel 40:1)). After 539, (when the Jews returned from Babylon) and 37 BC was 502 years after 539. 502 (251 x 2) is not divisible by 7. It is two years off after 539 BC and after Alexander's visit to Jerusalem in 331 BC. 2520 years after 539 BC comes down to 1982 AD. This makes 1975 AD the last jubilee after 4004 BC based upon 539 BC, not 604 BC.

After 604 BC, Sabbaticals were in 569, 520, 458, 331, 163, 135, 37, 02 BC and in 06, 13, 20, 27, 34, 41, 48, 55, 62, 69-70, 132, 622 and 1179 AD. There are 76 jubilees from 3761 BC to 37 BC. There are 532 years from 569 to 37 BC. The Hebrew calendar has Herod capturing Jerusalem in 37 BC, 76 jubilees after its date of Creation in 3761 BC, 40 jubilees after 3957 BC.

Since the Jews and Greeks used letters as numbers, there was no year 0. So their Sabbatical was in 68-69, not 69-70 for when the temple burned. Wacholder corrected this recently. Zucherman is a year too early.

Within this 427-year pattern, some judges must have overlapped and actually ruled only 287 years instead of 339 (339 – 52 = 287) if there were only 427 years (479-52 = 427) between the Exodus and the temple, and if the original chronology of the Jewish people formed a sabbatical pattern of 427 years (61 x 7): See TABLE 2 and 3 below.

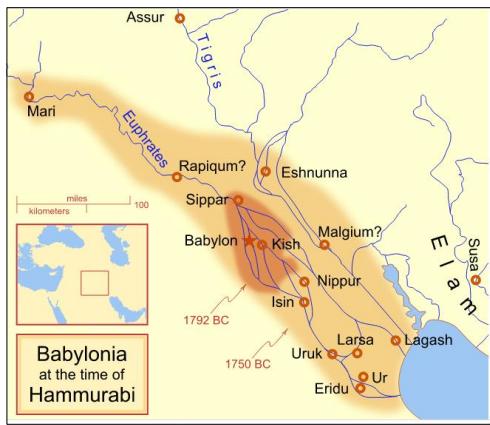

In contrast, the Greek Septuagint version (written before 230 BC) has 440 years to the temple. It subtracts 40 instead of 52 years from the 479 years to the temple. Those who date the temple as 966 BC would extend the 427-year pattern on down to 539 BC (966 - 427 = 539), when Cyrus conquered Babylon to place the Exodus in 1393 (1393 to 539 = 427 x 2). The Hebrew calendar puts the birth of Moses in 1393, 80 years before the Exodus in 1313 BC.

Maps during hammurabi

Traditionally, we believe there were 2513 years ($1656 + 854 + 3$) years from Adam to the exodus. 2513 is equally divisible by 7. One version says it was 2450 years (49×50). These traditions contradict the notion that Abraham was called during a sabbatical 427 years after the flood. The contradiction lies in the belief that the exodus was 430 years after Abraham's calling at age 75 (Exodus 12:41).

Abraham and Hammurabi

430 is not equally divisible by 7. However, if Abraham were first called when he dwelled in Ur of the Chaldees at the age of 72, the exodus would be 430 years after his first calling. His second calling was when he dwelled in Haran (Acts 7:2-4), 427 years before the exodus.

Genesis 14 is about Abraham pursuing four kings from Shinar (Babylonia), Larsa (Ellasar), Elam and Gazza ("goyim") who kidnapped his nephew, Lot, when they defeated five kings of Sodom and Gomorrah.

In Archaeology, Hammurabi is also Ammurapi, Kh-ammurabi; Larsa is Ellasar; Arioch is Eriaku; Chedorlaomer is Kudur-Lagamar; Tidal is Tuudhula or Tudhaliyi; Chedorlaomer is Chodollogomor in the Greek Septuagint version.

Hammurabi is now placed around 1800-1750 BC instead of the common belief, 2100 BC (explained HERE).

Before subtracting 52 years mentioned above, I thought Abraham was age 75 in 1872, not 1820 BC... much too early to be contemporary with Hammurabi. After subtracting 52 years, Abraham was 85 in 1812 BC and was 75 in 1820 BC, when he was called 427 years x 2 before the temple was founded in 966 BC, 427 years after the Exodus in 1393.

In contrast, Josephus had 592 years from the exodus to the temple. Other Classical writers said it was 590 as in TABLE 3. This would support the view there were 450 years for the judges, as in Acts 13:20 ($111+339 = 450$).

However, this "exodus" has been associated with the ousting of the Asiatic Hyksos in order to begin the 18th Egyptian Dynasty.

Moses, Ramesses & Nefertari in 1250 BC

Nefertari was reared in the estate of Pharaoh Seti I and married Ramesses II. Evidently, she died in Ramesses' 25th year (1255 BC, 251 yrs. before 1004 BC) and was buried in a magnificent chamber in Nubia. Their firstborn, Amun-her-khepeshef, became crown prince and also died in 1255. In 1254, Ramesses Jr. became crown prince. He was the firstborn of Isetnofret, second wife of Ramesses II. Her sons became crown princes until Merneptah (or Merenptah), the 13th son of Ramesses, became Pharaoh in 1213, when Ramesses died. In his fifth year (1208), Israel had already crossed the Jordan river and had settled in Canaan.

More detail is found HERE.

This view has been employed in the movie, Exodus (with Yul Brenner as Pharaoh Ramesses II and Charlton Heston as Moses. Ramesses's son, Merneptah, replaced him about 251 years before the temple, in about 1219 BC.

There are three different views about when the Israelites left Egypt under Moses as in TABLE 3 above.

1. 251 years: Kenneth Kitchen, Professor Emeritus and Honorary Research Fellow, University of Liverpool, England, thinks the Exodus was during the reign of Ramesses II who began to reign in 1279 BC. 251 years before 968 BC is 1219 BC, when Merneptah began to rule.

This is supported by Matthew 1:17, which shows there were only six generations from Nashon (King David's ancestor at the Exodus) until David captured Jerusalem (Nashon, Salmon, Boaz, Obed, Jesse & David). This would most likely represent 251 years ($1255-251=1004$) and 294 years to the completion of Solomon's temple in his 11th or 12th years, in about 960-959 BC, or it could be from 1219, when Merneptah became Pharaoh down to the temple (as in TABLES 2 & 3).

2. 590 years: Josephus said there were 2513 years from Adam to the Exodus plus 592 more years to Solomon's temple (Antiquities 8.3.1). Early Classical writers and Acts 13:20 indicate there were 590 years to the temple. This "exodus" is associated with the ousting of the Asiatic Hyksos in order to begin the 18th Egyptian Dynasty.

3. 479 years: I Kings 6:1 says there were 479 years from the Exodus to Solomon's temple as illustrated in TABLE 3. This is supported by Judges 11:26. Jephthah was a judge 300 years after Moses' conquest east of the Jordan and 140 years before the temple.

Other patterns posted HERE result when there are 1656 years, not 1708, to Noah's Flood and 479 years, not 427, from Exodus to the temple.

Exodus = 3 yrs before Sabbatical
 $1656+101+251+251=2510$

2513 = Ussher's Sabbatical

Exodus Version #1

$(1656+101+251+251 = \underline{2510})$

1447 – 968 BC = 479 yrs.

1447 – 52 = 1395

2513 = Ussher's Exodus in a Sabbatical

Reasons to add 52 years before Flood:

1. Shem was age 98 at the Flood

2. Ussher has Exodus in Sabbatical year

2513 years (7×359) after Adam.

Should be $427 \times 6 = 2562 (= 2513 + 49)$)

3. Jews' Sabbatical = 40 yrs after Exodus

Israel leaves Kadesh Barnea
